

missionary ventures | Involving People to Impact Nations for Christ

As Spring turns into Summer I guess we are all looking forward to some nice weather. Here in the northern hemisphere we enjoy long days and, hopefully, an improvement in the climate. Actually, Jean & I have been away for a week in Cornwall recently and we enjoyed some really nice weather - dry and sunny, although not too hot. We also attended the joint 70th birthday celebration of a couple of our friends whilst we were down there. How good it is to have good, long standing friendships!!

This Autumn, I will also 'hit the big 7-0' and at that time I will be stepping down from the leadership team of our home church here in Stockport. This, however, is not complete retirement as I will continue my translocal ministry here in UK as well as other possible travelling activities.

One really exciting development is the publication of my book "No Limits: A Kingdom Perspective on Making Disciples" in the French language. This should be available within the next couple of months and we have had great feedback from a number of people who were asked to proofread it for us. I really think that this will lead to a number of opportunities to help churches in France to 'up their game' when it comes to making disciples and multiplying leaders and churches. My sincere thanks go to Richard Hwialkoski, who has worked really hard, championed the translation and made it happen.

In terms of overseas ministry - we are still not in a position to undertake and long haul travel. However, Jean has been quite well for about two years now and so we are not ruling out visits to more distant places in the future. It has now been a couple of years since I last visited our work in India. I am rather saddened by this, but am persuaded that the work has not suffered as a result. Our 'man on the ground' there, Malaki Dara and his wife Beulah, are doing a great job. My great joy (and relief), however, is to have my long-term colleague and personal friend, Rob Carter, taking the reins of the work of 'No Limits' in India.

Malaki Dara with Jean in India

Rob is a seasoned missionary and served as the Director of Missionary Ventures GB for several years. It was during this time that we got to know one another well and travelled together on a number of occasions. Rob and his wife, Erika, have a real heart for India and have travelled and ministered there on a number of occasions. He is going (this time on his own) later this month and again in November this year. He will be visiting our children' homes, the medical centre in Isnapur and our Kingdom Discipleship Centre (KDC) this month as well as speaking at leadership conferences in Eluru and Visakhapatnam. Please pray for him as he travels from 13-26th June.

Beulah Dara

Rob Carter

Well, that's about all our news for now. I pray that you will have a great Summer and that you will all experience the blessing of God on your lives, families and ministries. Thank you so much for your continued support in every way that makes it possible for us to continue the work of 'No Limits'.

In Christ (hidden)

Your friends,

Viv & Jean

unsubscribe from this list update subscription preferences

